OUT IN COLUMBUS

The word is out on Columbus. Andrew Collins' blog on About.com: Gay & Lesbian Travel labeled Columbus as "one of the nation's most underrated gay cities." The Advocate has rated Columbus one of the best places in the country for gays and lesbians to live.

One of the best times to visit is during the Pride Festival, Held every June since 1981, it attracts more than 100,000 people and is one of the largest gay pride celebrations in the country.

DAY ONE

Spend the morning in German Village, a charming restored neighborhood listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Stroll brick streets lined with one-of-a-kind shops, such as Helen Winnemore Contemporary Craft Gallery and The Book Loft, a popular independent bookstore. Grab a coffee or pastry and relax in either Frank Fetch Park or Schiller Park, both of which are filled with flowers. Enjoy lunch at Barcelona, which has one of the best patio settings in the city.

Public art is everywhere in the Short North

See another side of Columbus in the Short North Arts District, a funky urban area filled with art galleries, trendy boutiques and eclectic specialty stores. Several of the city's top restaurants are here, including Rigsby's Kitchen for gourmet Italian.

Kick back at one of the Short North's many GLBT-friendly bars, including Union Cafe or Axis for dancing. During Gallery Hops, held the first Saturday of the month, the galleries and shops stay open late and entertainers line the streets.

Or head to the neighboring Arena District, where you can see a concert at The LC or cheer on the Blue Jackets—Ohio's only National Hockey League team.

DAY TWO

Enjoy dinner near The Ohio State University at Alana's, where chef/owner Alana Shock serves up an ever-changing menu of fresh, inventive cuisine.

After dinner, take in a show by one of Columbus' performing arts groups, including BalletMet, the Columbus Gay Men's Chorus, the Contemporary American Theatre Company and Broadway Across America—Columbus. Grab a drink at Level or Wall Street or check out one of the happening clubs in South Campus Gateway across from OSU. (Pick up a copy of Outlook for a complete list of GLBT clubs.)

DAY THREE

Eat breakfast at the North Market, a public market filled with unique—and delicious—souvenirs. Taste gourmet ice cream created with out-of-the-ordinary ingredients such as coriander and lavender. Call ahead to take a cooking class in The Columbus Dispatch Kitchen.

See avant-garde modern art at the internationally renowned Wexner Center for the Arts. Along with cutting-edge visual arts, the Wex has a packed performance schedule featuring many GLBT musicians, films and arts groups.
